MARKET UPDATE

In March, JCI decreased 0.37% MoM to 7288.81. In March 2024, three global events emerged that could impact global equity markets. Firstly, The Fed's meeting revealed projections for faster-than-expected US economic growth this year, while still indicating the possibility of interest rate cuts up to three times. Secondly, the China National People's Congress in March set a GDP growth target of around 5% for 2024 but did not introduce a significant stimulus package to achieve this goal. Thirdly, the Bank of Japan made a historic shift by ending an era of negative interest rates, raising borrowing costs for the first time since 2007 as the country moves past decades of deflation. Meanwhile, Indonesia's domestic economy is influenced by consumption patterns, particularly as the country enters the festive season of Hari Raya Idul Fitri (Lebaran). Normalized high rice prices contribute to a more favorable overall economic environment. Additionally, market discussions have commenced regarding the implementation of the next government program, including a proposed free lunch program for school students, which could potentially stimulate consumption. Reported softness in car and motorcycle sales is attributed to anticipation surrounding the February elections. However, the purchase of high-value items is expected to improve, supported by certain banks' promotion of credit growth. In March 2024, the US bond yield curve remained inverted, albeit less steeply, following signals from The Fed indicating potential rate cuts up to three times within the year. This development has fostered a positive sentiment in the bond market, as ongoing speculation about rate cuts by the Fed could create an opportunity for investors, leading to further declines in bond yields. Although US inflation may still encounter challenges, it appears to be on a downward trend, which indicates progress. Meanwhile, discussions within the domestic market revolve around the government's proposal to increase the Value Added Tax (VAT or PPN) by 1%, from 11% to 12% in the upcoming year. While this could potentially push domestic inflation higher, it is expected to remain within the range of 3% to 4%, ensuring that real yields remain in positive territory. The yield spread between US Treasury and IndoCB bonds is anticipated to remain at the current level of approximately 250 basis points, reflecting the new normal. In the event of any fluctuations in US economic data causing corrections in bond yields. Based on DMO bond flow data as of Mar 28, 2024, Foreign ownership recorded at 14.20% of the total outstanding and outflow of Rp31.35tn YTD.
