MARKET UPDATE

Indonesia's equity market saw a sharp reversal in January 2026, with the JCI falling 3.67% MoM. The correction was primarily driven by MSCI's announcement highlighting the risk of a significant index weight reduction or a downgrade to Frontier Market status by May 2026, should structural issues remain unresolved. Key concerns cited include potential market manipulation, limited investability due to opaque shareholding structures, and reliance on KSEI's shareholder categorization framework. Foreign investor positioning deteriorated materially, with offshore investors turning net sellers of Rp14.5tn (US$855mn) in January 2026, a sharp reversal from the Rp10.4tn (US$612mn) net inflow recorded in December 2025. Despite the market drawdown, liquidity remained robust, with average daily transaction value rising to Rp31.3tn (US$1.9bn) from an already elevated Rp21.4tn in December. This increase was largely driven by sustained retail participation, particularly in non-blue-chip and MSCI-sensitive names.
