MARKET UPDATE

Indonesia's annual inflation accelerated to 3.08% in May 2026 remains within the central bank's target range of 1.5%-3.5%. Core inflation, which strips out volatile food and administered prices, hiked to 2.59%, below April's figure of 2.44%. Bank Indonesia (BI) raised its policy rate by 50bps to 5.25%, exceeding market expectations of a 25bps increase. The move reflects a pre-emptive effort to anchor inflation expectations and marks a shift away from the previous "dual-track" approach, where liquidity absorption was carried out through SRBI instruments while keeping the policy rate unchanged. This decision highlights a more direct use of the policy rate as a signaling tool in response to heightened global and domestic risks. In May 2026, BI middle rate depreciated 2.61% to 17,789/USD.
